GETTING STARTED: YOUR ACCOUNT

Get acquainted with your account by reviewing the important terms below.

IMPORTANT TERM	WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU	OUR RESPONSIBILITY
Credit Limit	A credit limit is the maximum amount you can charge on a revolving credit account, such as a credit card. As you use your card, the amount of each purchase is subtracted from your credit limit. The number you're left with is known as your available balance. How Do Credit Limits Relate to Available Balance? It's important to remember that your credit limit is not the same thing as your available balance. Purchases and other transactions, such as cash advances, will reduce your available balance, as will any interest or fees you're charged. But those things don't change your credit limit. As you make monthly payments on the account, your available credit goes back up by that amount-minus any finance or other charges. The Cardholder(s) will not request an advance which will cause the Credit Limit to be exceeded at any time; however, if the	We will post your current credit limit on your monthly billing statement. We may cancel, change or restrict it or your credit availability at anytime.

	Credit Limit is exceeded at any time, the Cardholder(s) promise to immediately repay the amount of the excess to the Credit Union. The Cardholder(s) agree not to use the card to effectuate any transaction which is unlawful under applicable law.
Authorized Users	An authorized user is a person added to a credit card account by the primary cardholder. Anyone can be an authorized user, as long as they meet the card issuer's age requirements; for instance, the primary cardholder may choose to add their child, spouse, and partner or close friend as an authorized user. While an authorized user can make purchases with their card (assuming the cardholder agrees), the liability for making payments lies only with the primary cardholder. The credit card issuer will expect the primary account owner to pay the monthly bill as normal, no matter who made the purchases. You must notify the Credit Union if you want the authorized user to stop using your account. Even though the authorized user does not have financial responsibility for the account, account information may be reported to the credit bureaus on the authorized user's credit report.	Per your request, we may issue cards that access your account to your authorized users. If you wish to terminate an authorized user, we may close your account and open a new account with a different account number.
Amendments	The Credit Union may amend the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, provided that such amendment shall be delivered at least one billing cycle, but not less than 45 days prior to the effective date of the change. You understand that if you disagree with any amendments to this agreement, you may close your account with the current terms and conditions unchanged. However, closing my account will not release me from my obligations to the Credit Union.	Our ability to make changes to this agreement is limited by applicable law. We may communicate amendments to this agreement to you via mail, email, or other electronic means, or include amendments in your monthly billing statements as permitted by law.

IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

TERM	WHAT IT MEANS
Payment Due Date	Payments are due on the payment due date shown on your monthly statement.
Variable Rate	Your APR(s) will vary with the market based on the Prime Rate, which is the highest rate of interest listed as the "US Prime Rate" in the "Money Rates" section of the Wall Street Journal.

	We calculate variable APR's by adding a margin to the Prime Rate. Rates are reviewed each month, and any new rate will be applied on the first day of the calendar month, based upon the Prime Rate listed as of the first day of the preceding month (or if such day is not a Business Day, the following Business Day). The APR may increase or decrease each month if the Prime Rate changes. If the APR increases, you will pay a higher interest charge and may pay a higher minimum payment. The Prime Rate is simply a reference index and is not the lowest interest rate available. If The Wall Street Journal stops publishing the Prime Rate, we will select a similar reference rate.
Default	Your account will be in default if: 1) You do not pay at least the minimum payment when due; 2) You fail to comply with this or other agreements with us; or 3) File Bankruptcy; or 4) We believe you may be unwilling or unable to pay your debts on time; or you become incapacitated or die. If your account is in default, we may close it without notice and require you to pay your unpaid balance immediately. We can also begin collection activities. In the event of any such default because you have failed to pay us, we will require you to pay our collection costs, attorneys' fees, court costs, and all other expenses of enforcing our rights under this agreement.
Interest Avoidance Balance	Pay the Interest Avoidance Balance every month by your due date to avoid interest on non-Installment Plan purchases and avoid prematurely paying off your Installment Plan Balances. This amount includes your current statement New Balance, minus your Installment Plan Remaining Balance and any eligible Promotional Balances (if applicable), plus your monthly Installment Plan Payment amount due. It does not include disputed amounts.
Monthly Payment Due for Installment Plan Balance(s):	Total amount owed this month for active installment plans.
Remaining Balance for Installment Plan(s) and eligible promotion(s):	Total Remaining Balance of outstanding installment plan balance(s) and any eligible interest free promotional balance(s), if applicable.

USING YOUR CARD

You can use your account in the following ways. Your account is to be used only for personal, family or household purposes. You cannot use your account for illegal purposes, such as unlawful gambling. You agree that we may rely on information provided to us by merchants and the applicable payment network to define transactions as Purchases, Balance Transfers or Cash Advances.

TRANSACTIONS	WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU	OUR RESPONSIBILITY
Purchases	You may use your account to buy goods and services.	We authorize charges to your account in accordance with the terms of this agreement.
Checks	For your protection, balance transfer and cash advance checks must be signed by the person whose name is printed on the checks.	We may provide balance transfer and cash advance checks for your use; we have the right not to pay a check for any reason.
Balance Transfers	If eligible for a balance transfer, you can transfer balances to your account	We do not permit balance transfers from other HUECU accounts or loans with us unless otherwise stated.

	by using balance transfer checks, visiting our website, or calling us. Balance Transfers are processed as Cash Advances.
Cash Advances	You may obtain cash from automatic teller machines at banks or by using cash advance checks. Interest charges begin to accrue on Cash Advances as of the date that the Cash Advances are made or the first day of the billing cycle in which posted to the account, whichever is later, and will continue to accrue until the Cash Advances are paid in full.
Reoccurring Automatic Charges	You may set up scheduled and repeat transactions to your account. If your account is closed or suspended, or your account number changes, you will need to contact any persons that you are paying by automatic transactions.	We are not responsible for scheduled and repeat transactions if your account is closed, suspended or the account number changes.
Foreign Transaction Fee and Exchange Rate	A fee of 0% of the transaction amount posted to my account will be imposed on all foreign transactions where the purchase amount is converted from a foreign currency into U.S. dollars. A foreign transaction includes purchases, cash withdrawals and cash advances that you complete, or a merchant on my card outside of the U.S., Puerto Rico or the U.S. Virgin Islands. A devaluation of the U.S. dollar against the foreign currency in which the transaction was made will result in a higher than expected dollar amount charged. This currency differential, along with any transaction fee could result in your account exceeding the credit limit. Use of my card outside of the U.S. may be subject to certain limitations. If you are traveling outside the U.S., you may contact the Credit Union for information concerning such limitations in various countries.	If a transaction is in a foreign currency, MasterCard will convert the transaction into U.S. dollars using their own currency conversion procedures, and then will send us the transaction amount. The exchange rate will be determined using either the range of rates available in the wholesale currency markets for the processing date (which may be different from the rate the card association receives) or a government-mandated rate in effect on that date. The exchange rate used by MasterCard may differ from the rate on the date of your transaction. In the case of returned or exchanged merchandise that was purchased in a foreign currency, the exchange rate is determined on the date of the return.
Authorization of Transactions /	We are not obligated to honor every transaction, and we may close or suspend your account. Sometimes we	We may decline transactions for any reason, including: operational matters, the account is in default, or suspected fraudulent or unlawful activity.

Closing Your Account	close accounts based not on your actions or inactions, but on our business needs.	We are not responsible for any losses associated with a declined transaction.
Installment Plan	Installment Plan refers to the option to pay for purchases over time by dividing the purchase amount into smaller equal payments, spreading purchases, including fees, into periodic monthly repayment amounts. The Terms and Conditions for the Installment Plan are available (https://huecu.org/wp-content/uploads/2022/09/Installment-Payments-TC.pdf). Eligible cardholders may use the Installment Plan feature through huecu.com or the HUECU Card App to create an Installment Plan balance from recent eligible purchase transactions for an eligible amount. The Installment Plan balance has set repayment terms subject to purchase interest each month (i.e., no grace period unlike regular purchases). When presented with available offers, you select how many billing periods you wish to pay the Installment Plan balance in full by making regular payments each monthly billing period. At the start of the billing cycle immediately proceeding the billing cycle in which you created the Installment Plan, you will be charged purchase interest under the Purchase APR for each period during which there is a balance in the Installment Plan. An eligible purchase transaction for the Installment Plan is a purchase of at least a specified dollar amount but may not include certain purchase transactions such as cash advances and any fee owed to us. An eligible amount for the Installment Plan is a portion of your account balance, as specified from time to time within the HUECU Card App. Balance transfer transactions are not eligible for an Installment Plan. The ability to create an Installment Plan is based on several factors, such as your creditworthiness, your credit limit, and your account behavior. You will not be able to create an Installment Plan balance if you enroll in a debt management program, have entered	At our discretion, we may make Installment Plans available to you; we may decline an Installment Plan transaction for any reason.

	into any type of credit card balance repayment modification agreement with us (including Skip-A-Pay), or if your account is closed or in default. When you have an Installment Plan balance on your account, you can avoid interest on your new (non-installment) regular purchases if you pay your entire Interest Avoidance Balance by the due date each month. For more information on the Installment Plan, see the Frequently Asked Questions (https://huecu.org/wp-content/uploads/2022/09/Installment-Payments-FAQs.pdf).

PAYMENTS

You will receive a billing statement, if one is required, each month. It will show your minimum required payment.

TRANSACTIONS	WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU	OUR RESPONSIBILITY
Payment Instructions	You must follow the payment instructions on your billing statement. You can pay us by: check, money order, or electronic payment drawn on a U.S. bank or a foreign bank branch in the U.S. All payments must be in U.S. Dollars. You authorize us to collect any payment check either electronically or by draft. See your billing statement for complete payment instructions.	As long as you make your payment in accordance with the instructions on your billing statement by the date and time payments are due, we will credit your payment as of the same day it is received.
Minimum Payment Due	You agree to pay at least the minimum payment when due. You also agree to pay over limit amounts when billed to your monthly statements.	We will calculate your minimum payment due based on the method described below the Rates and Fees Table. The minimum payment will appear on your monthly statement and includes any past due amounts.
Grace Period	When your account is in an interest-free period, interest is not charged on new purchases. Your account is in an interest-free period when you have paid the New Balance or Interest Avoidance Balance shown on your most recent billing statement by the due date and time If you do not pay the New Balance or Interest Avoidance Balance shown on your most recent billing statement by the due date and time,	When your account is in an interest-free period, we will not charge you interest on new purchases.

	you will lose your interest-free period and we will charge interest on your purchases. After you re-enter an interest-free period, interest charges on purchases may still appear on your next billing statement. This reflects interest charged from the beginning of that billing cycle through the date that your payment for the prior billing statement was received. Balance Transfers, Checks and Cash Advances do not have an interest-free period and if these balances are not paid in full by paying your New Balance or Interest Saving Balance by the due date and time, you will lose your interest-free period on new purchases.
Payment Allocation	When you make a payment, generally, we first apply your minimum payment to the monthly obligation for any Installment Plan offer balances, which requires repayment of the balance over a pre-selected number of billing periods, and then to the balance on your monthly statement with the lowest APR. Any payment above your minimum payment would generally then be applied to the balance on your monthly statement with the highest APR first. If you do not pay your New Balance or Interest Avoidance Balance, as shown on your statement, in full each month, you may not avoid paying interest on your new, regular purchases.	We apply payments to balances as they appear on your monthly statement before being applied to new transactions. An example of a new transaction is a recent purchase you made that has not yet been included in the New Balance as shown on your statement.
Payment Processing		We may delay the availability of credit until we confirm that your payment has cleared. This may happen even if we credit your payment to your Account. We may resubmit and collect returned payments electronically. If necessary, we may adjust your Account to correct errors, process returned and reversed payments, and handle similar issues. When you send us a check as payment, you authorize us to make a one-time electronic fund transfer from your deposit account. You also authorize us to process the payment as a check. We may withdraw the funds from your deposit account as early as the same day we receive your payment. We will provide additional information about this process on your Statement. We may use the information from a check to create an electronic image. We may collect and return the image electronically. If we convert the check to an electronic image, you will not receive your original check back from your bank. This electronic image may also be converted to a substitute check and may be processed in the same way we would process a check. We will not be responsible if a check you provide has physical features that when imaged result in it not being processed as you intended.

Credit Balances	You may request a refund of any credit balance at any time.	If you do not request a refund, we will apply any credit balance to new charges on your Account. If a credit balance remains on your account for 3 months, we will automatically credit your Share Savings Account.

HOW TO AVOID

Certain transactions and situations may cause your account to receive a fee or have another impact on your account. The information below explains how you can avoid these outcomes. Amounts of these fees are listed in the Rates and Fees Table. Special services your request may incur additional service fees; be sure to carefully review the details of any additional services to understand the terms.

HOW TO AVOID	WHAT TO DO	WHAT IT MEANS
Late Fee	Ensure HUECU receives at least the minimum payment shown on your billing statement within 15 days of the due date	If any payment is late, we may charge you a late fee. If the fee is based on a balance, we calculate the fee using the total balance at the end of the day the fee is charged.
Return Check Fee	Do not submit a payment that could be returned unpaid	We may charge this fee if the check payment you offer to us is not honored, returned unpaid, or cannot be processed.

Collections	Do not default	If you are in default, we may take the actions described above in the Default section under Important Definitions above.

INTEREST CHARGES

Daily Interest Rates and Annual Percentage Rates may be found on the Rates and Fees Table.

The interest charge for each billing cycle will be computed by multiplying the Average Daily Balance of the balance subject to interest charge during the billing cycle by the monthly periodic rate. The Average Daily Balance is determined by dividing the sum of the closing daily balances subject to interest charge during the billing cycle by the number of days in the cycle. The balance subject to interest charge for any day is determined by adding to the prior day's closing balance subject to interest charge, any Cash Advances and Credit Purchases (but only if the previous New Balance was not paid in full by the end of the current billing cycle) posted to my account on such day, and subtracting any payments or credits for such day. Interest charges are added to my account at the end of each billing cycle, but such interest charges are never added to the balance upon which interest charges are computed.

YOUR BILLING RIGHTS

Keep this document for future use. This notice tells you about your rights and our responsibilities under the Fair Credit Billing Act.

What to Do If You Find a Mistake on Your Statement

If you think there is an error on your statement, contact us in writing at the address below. You may also contact us through the mobile app or on the web at www.huecu.org.

Harvard University Employees Credit Union
Customer Service, PO BOX 31112
Tampa, FL 33631-3112

In your communication, provide the following information:

Account information: Your name and account number

Dollar amount: The dollar amount of the suspected error

Description of problem: If you think there is an error on your bill, describe what you believe is wrong and why you believe it is a mistake.

You must contact us:

Within 60 days after the error appeared on your statement

At least 3 business days before an automated payment is scheduled, if you want to stop payment on the amount you think is incorrect.

You must notify us of any potential errors in writing. If you call us or notify us electronically, we are not required to investigate any potential errors and you may have to pay the amount in question.

What Will Happen After We Receive Your Written Communication

When we receive your communication, we must do two things:

1. Within 30 days of receiving your communication, we must tell you that we received it. We will also tell you if we have already corrected the error.
2. Within 90 days of receiving your communication, we must either correct the error or explain to you why we believe the bill is correct.

While we investigate whether or not there has been an error:

We cannot try to collect the amount in question, or report you as delinquent on that amount.

The charge in question may remain on your statement, and we may continue to charge you interest on that amount.

While you do not have to pay the amount in question, you are responsible for the remainder of your balance.

We can apply any unpaid amount against your credit limit.

After we finish our investigation, one of two things will happen:

If we made a mistake: You will not have to pay the amount in question or any interest or other fees related to that amount.

If we do not believe there was a mistake: You will have to pay the amount in question, along with applicable interest and fees.

We will send you a statement of the amount you owe and the date payment is due. We may then report you as delinquent if you do not pay the amount we think you owe.

If you receive our explanation but still believe your bill is wrong, you must contact us in writing within 10 days telling us that you still refuse to pay. If you do so, we cannot report you as delinquent without also reporting that you are questioning your bill. We must inform you of the name of anyone to whom we reported you as delinquent, and we must let those organizations know when the matter has been settled between us.

If we do not follow all of the rules above, you do not have to pay the first $50 of the amount you question even if your bill is correct.

Your Rights If You Are Dissatisfied with Your Credit Card Purchases

If you are dissatisfied with the goods or services that you have purchased with your credit card, and you have tried in good faith to correct the problem with the merchant, you may have the right not to pay the remaining amount due on the purchase. To exercise this right, all of the following must be true:

1. The purchase must have been made in your home state or within 100 miles of your current mailing address, and the purchase price must have been more than $50. (Note: Neither of these are necessary if your purchase was based on an advertisement we mailed to you, or if we own the company that sold you the goods or services).
2. You must have used your credit card for the purchase. Purchases made with Cash Advances from an ATM or with a check that accesses your credit card account do not qualify.
3. You must not yet have fully paid for the purchase.

If all of the criteria above are met and you are still dissatisfied with the purchase, contact us in writing at the Customer Service address shown on your billing statement. While we investigate, the same rules apply to the disputed amount as discussed above. After we finish our investigation, we will inform you of our decision. At that point, if we think you owe an amount and you do not pay, we may report you as delinquent.
